What Corsets Have Done.
"Take off your corset!" I hear a howl of dismay. "O, we can't live without corsets! We should fall to pieces!" "I can't hold myself up an hour without corsets!" "I always have such a pain in my side when I lay aside my corset!" My dear, do you see what a severe accusation you bring against this article yourselves? Wearing corsets has so enfeebled your muscles that they are no longer of use to you. If you had ever worn them your body, left to the laws of Him who made it, would have needed no support. I know one woman, about 60 years old, tall, stout, well developed, who has never worn corsets or trusses, and whose flesh is firm and cool, needing no bones to keep it in position except her own.

I suppose you cannot undo wholly what the years of idle, foolish fortune have done for you, but you can have a better fortune if you will begin now to live like rational beings. Go and buy some of those well-made, new-fashioned waists, with buttons to hold up your heavy, dragging skirts; but get them big enough so that you can draw the longest breath your squeezed and disabled lungs will allow after the waist is burst; so loose that you can lift your arm above your head easily; if your side or back aches, lie down; rub your flabby flesh every day with a rough cloth wrung out in salt and water; draw your breath in as far as you can, and breathe it out slowly as you can every time the clock strikes.—Rose Terry Cooke.

England as a Mohammedan Power.
The significance of one of Disraeli's famous sayings begins to unfold itself. Before this terrible struggle commenced he declared, in his great palace, that England was then the second greatest Mohammedan power in the world. He can now truly say that she is the greatest Mohammedan power in the world, since Turkey has been so wasted by this desolating war. He can, perhaps, say with equal truth, that England's Mohammedan subjects in India sympathize as deeply with their Turkish coreligionists as the subjects of the Czar can with the Christian population of the Ottoman Empire. Constructively or politically, England is as much the head of the Mohammedan religion as Russia is the head of the Greek Church. In this sense she is the natural defender of the "Faithful." Reducing all vague generalities of pretension to their true value, this is the greatest, if not the only, "British interest" involved in the sustentation of the Turkish Dominion in Europe. And England, under Disraeli's lead, seems determined to defend and uphold this imperiled interest without the help of other European powers.—Elihu Buritt.

Pond's Extract is a wonderful remedy. It has been used and praised in thousands of families for half a century. It cures all forms of Pain, Indigestion and Hemorrhages. For Summer Complaints, Diarrhoea, Stings of insects, Chafings, Piles, Sunburns, Sore Eyes, sore feet it is unrivalled. Be sure to get the genuine.

AN OLD STORY.
It is said that when a blushing maiden of fifteen summers is told by a fond mother that a young man wishes to see her in the parlor, with an air of innocence she asks: "What is it, mother?" Then at about 18 years of age, with same announcement, with an air of dignity, she inquires: "Who is he, mother?" But at the modest age of 25, with an eagerness that borders on the boisterous, she inquires: "Where is he, ma?" This is given as the stages of a young woman's matrimonial history, from blushing innocence to that period where with her it is "anybody, Lord."—Harolson (Ga.) Banner.

"That tired feeling" from which you suffer so much, particularly in the morning, is entirely thrown off by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A devoted better-half, who has it all her own way, says that a good matrimonial firm is one that consists of three-quarters wife and one-quarter husband.

In the Dear Old Days.
We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the desirableness of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of your blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balsam will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50c article for the hair.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE Cod-Liver Oil, With Hypophosphates, For Wasting Diseases of Children,
Where the digestive powers are feeble and the ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and is almost as palatable as milk. Take no other.

THE INALD SCOTT, in his "Discover of Witch-rail" (15-4), enumerates the different kinds of spirits, and particularly notices white, black, gray and red spirits.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Hay Fever.
Ely's Cream Balm was recommended to me by my druggist as a preventative to hay fever. Have been using it as directed and have found it a specific for that much dreaded and loathsome disease. For ten years or more I have been a great sufferer each year, from August 6th till frost, and have tried many alleged remedies for its cure, but Ely's Cream Balm is the only preventative I have ever found. Hay fever sufferers ought to know of its efficacy.—F. B. Ainsworth, of F. B. Ainsworth & Co., Publishers, Indianapolis, Ind.

Condensed Sweetness in Medicine.
At a recent meeting of the Royal Dublin Society, Prof. E. Reynolds called attention to the importance of saccharin to medical men for sweetening the food of patients to whom sugar would be injurious. This substance, obtained by Prof. Fahlberg from coal-tar, is said to be 200 times as sweet as sugar, and experiments thus far made have shown no harmful effects from its use. Its present cost in England is about $10 per pound.

MR. CLEVELAND once asked Senator Voorhees: "Who is Judge Turpie?" "A citizen of Indiana," was the reply, "to whom I feel like apologizing every time we meet." "Why?" "For the reason that I am in the Senate of the United States and he is not."

That Tired Feeling
The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

Strengthen the System
Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of medicinal agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

The new bell for the St. Joseph Catholic church at Roanoke will be blessed there to-morrow by the Very Reverend Joseph H. Brammer, V. G., of this city. High mass at 10 o'clock, then a sermon will be preached by the vicar general, and after the sermon the bell will be blessed.

Mr. Newton Burwell, who was formerly a citizen and leading lawyer of Fort Wayne, has located at Rapid City, Dak., and will practice law there. Mr. Burwell has a thorough, trained legal mind. He is an honorable gentleman and the people of Rapid City in having him in their midst.

Wabash passenger train 46, with Uncle Ike Siddle at the throttle, picked up a cow at Roanoke Thursday morning. The animal became fastened in the pilot and was with great difficulty dislodged. The passengers manifested considerable interest, and one of them ventured to ask Uncle Ike how she got on the pilot. "I don't care a d—n how she got on the pilot, so I get her off," was the characteristic and brusque reply.

Captain Hugh A. Diehl says that he and his police officers will enforce the liquor law if Mayor Muhler and Prosecuting Attorney Dawson will so instruct them and prosecute with something like honesty every case brought before them. Captain Diehl says he can enforce the 11 o'clock and Sunday law if he is properly supported by the officers, who are usually lax in this particular. The people now await further instructions from the mayor and prosecutor. This is a hard and fast order.

Pittsburg passenger train No. 1 was two hours late to-day.

Col. Sam B. Sweet, division freight agent of the Wabash, is in the city.

The Wabash general association of detective companies will hold its twenty-fourth annual convention at Frankfort on next Monday and Tuesday.

It is now said that Wm. Hewitt, who is under arrest for arson, is not married to the woman he calls his wife. Constable Robbins says Hewitt promised to marry the divorced wife of John Krudolph, of Baker street, just before his arrest.

Parties wishing to visit or attend the democratic state convention at Indianapolis on Wednesday will find it convenient to go over the Wabash, as they can leave on any regular train on the 9th, 10th and 11th for the very low price of $3.

Mr. Ed. J. Twomey, of Lake township, who has for a year been second clerk in the railway mail service, with a run from Crestline to Chicago, has been promoted and given charge of a car from Chicago to Crestline. Mr. Twomey is one of the brightest young men in the mail service and earned every inch of his elevation.

Mrs. Noah Granger died last night at her home, No. 160 West Wayne street. The lady was most estimable and her legion of friends will mourn the loss of a noble, Christian woman. Her life has been so useful and charitable that her reward is certain, and this simple tribute she deserves. Mrs. Granger's funeral will occur Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home.

THE ARSON CASE.

Fred. C. Reid and Wm. Hewitt Held for Trial.

The trial of Fred C. Reid and Wm. Hewitt, for arson, concluded last evening after THE SENTINEL went to press. Capt. Diehl gave the best evidence of a conspiracy, inasmuch as Reid was never informed why he was arrested nor given an intimation of it, yet he seemed aware of the cause and protested his innocence without any provocation. Lieut. Wilkinson and Officer Lee gave similar evidence and cited other facts to establish an agreement between Reid and Hewitt to destroy the stock. Mr. S. F. Swayze testified to having insured Reid & Kyle's stock and reiterated Hewitt's confession. Hon. W. G. Colerick, Mr. Henry Colerick and J. B. Harper made masterly arguments for their clients, while Mr. C. M. Dawson did honors for the state. More eloquence has rarely been heard in the superior court room, but the prisoners were doomed and Justice Henry France bound them over for grand jury investigation in the sum of $500 each. At 12 o'clock last night Reid gave bail and is at his place of business. We hope Mr. Reid will prove to the grand jury that he is innocent.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected COCOA, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a deliciously flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a course of gradual building up until the system is strong and healthy is possible. Hundreds of subtle maladies are forced upon us daily, and attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal illness by stopping ourselves well fortified with food and a properly nourished frame. Epps's Cocoa is simply with boiling water or milk, and is in half pound tins, labeled EPPS'S COCOA, JAMES EPPS & CO., London, England.

AT REST!

The Remains of the Late Statesman Tenderly Consigned to the Tomb.

YONKERS, N. Y., Aug. 7.—The funeral of Mr. Tilden falls upon a cloudy and cheerless day. The casket reached the house this morning. It is made in two parts—the interior of copper, with a glass door. Its entire length is decorated with white tufted satin. The outer part is made of red Spanish cedar and is plainly ornamented with oxidized silver. The plate is of that material and bears simply the name "Samuel J. Tilden" in script. The remains were placed in the casket and brought down to the first floor at 8:30, when the general public were admitted to the mansion. The first to arrive at the house were Gen. Alexander Hamilton, Charles A. Dana, Ex-Senator Wm. H. Barnum, Sam'l J. Randall, Treasurer Jordan, Ex-Collector Murphy and Ex-Assemblyman Morrow. Andrew Green received all and ushered them to the parlor. The body of the deceased was dressed in a suit of full dress, with a white pink in the buttonhole. A white tie surrounded the standing collar. The right hand crossed over the breast and the head lay partly on the right side. The features, while showing some emaciation, did not suggest that the dead had undergone any extended, or considerable physical suffering.

Some of those who passed on the long line to take a last look at the remains were Algernon S. Sullivan, Gen. LeFevre, of Ohio; John Riglow, Smith M. Weed, Wm. Allen Butler and Col. John R. Pellos.

The flowers on the coffin were composed of but live collections. Calabries and white roses lay near the head of the casket and at the foot was placed a sheaf of palm under a similar and victrola remains.

By 9 o'clock several hundred persons had viewed the remains. The registered list of pall bearers was Samuel J. Randall, John Bigelow, Daniel Manning, Smith M. Weed, Charles A. Dana, Dr. George I. Miller, Wm. Allen Butler, Daniel Maugon, James Trencher, Dr. Charles E. Simmons, Aaron J. Vanderpool.

At 9:40 President Cleveland reached the mansion. He was accompanied by Secretary of War Endicott and Private Secretary Lamont. George W. Smith, Tilden's private secretary, took the president's arm and found a place in the line of citizens. Secretary Endicott followed with Mr. Lamont. On reaching the head of the bier, the president stopped for a moment or two, took an earnest look at the face of the dead and passed on to the hall and was escorted among his family up stairs. He also was Mr. Endicott and Mr. Lamont.

Ten minutes later, the pall bearers descended to the centre of the house that opened directly to the room where the remains were. Secretary Manning, leaning upon the arm of Mr. John Bigelow, led the bearers. He seemed feeble. Delegations from various bodies followed the pall bearers. President Cleveland entered the room with Secretary Endicott, Secretary Whitney and Mr. Lamont following. Next came the members of the family, Mr. Tilden's nephews and nieces.

Mass., conducted the funeral services and delivered a short address on the personal qualities of the deceased. After this address, Miss Antonio Henne sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," and Dr. Tucker made another brief speech. The choir sang "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," and the casket was closed.

The body was borne out to the hearse at 10:50 and carried to the train for New Lebanon. The president, governor, mayor, cabinet officers and delegations followed with the pall bearers in twenty-five carriages.

The president and his secretary, Governor Hill, Mayor Grace and the delegates followed in the carriages, but neither boarded the funeral train when the depot was reached. The members of the family, the Misses Tilden, Miss Gould, Mr. Charles MacLion, with their intimate friends, Rev. Dr. Tucker and several of the delegations entered the cars. The train left Yonkers at 11:15 and is due at New Lebanon, where the remains will be interred at 3:45.

Among the eminent persons present at the funeral not named above were Congressman Merriman, Hewitt and Campbell, Major General Schofield, Commodore Chandler, J. Pullitzer, James N. Hinchins, W. D. Purcell, Justice G. J. O'Donoghue, James Gallagher, M. J. Fryes, A. C. Chapin, Supt. Maxwell, W. S. Eustice, Chas. H. Hughes, James N. Pearson, formerly of the governor's staff, and others.

President Cleveland, accompanied by secretaries Manning, Endicott, Whitney and Mr. Lamont left here for New York at 1:25. The party was cheered by a large crowd as they boarded a special train.

MR. TILDEN'S ESTATE.

Mr. Tilden's fortune has been estimated to be from $7,000,000 to $15,000,000. From a good source it is learned that the estate is worth about $10,000,000. It is understood that James C. Carter drew up a will for Mr. Tilden two years ago, which he executed. It has long been known that Mr. Tilden had intended to bequeath his beautiful city residence in Gramercy Park, with its large and valuable collection of books, to the city, for use as a public library. On December 2, 1883, Mr. Tilden said, in an interview with a friend, that he had always intended to leave his books to the city for a public library, and he considered it fitting to erect a handsome and substantial treasure house for the library gems. He concluded that the best place for the building would be on the site of his old Gramercy Park residence. Some time ago he bought the adjoining building and erected a handsome structure, admirably adapted for a library and literary institute.

Under his will the Gramercy Park house and the large collection of books will be left in trust to the city for a public library. The value of the books and engravings is at least $100,000. Altogether the property with its contents is worth $1,000,000.

Mr. Tilden's property consisted chiefly of bonds and real estate and Northern Michigan mining stocks.

QUEER POLITICS.

Candidates Asked to Pay Premiums for Nominations.

Hon. Fred J. Hayden, a democratic candidate for state senator, who has served one term in the lower house of the legislature with honor and distinction, is not in the best frame of mind. He says he was approached by Sam Miller, manager of the Journal company, who informed him he could not be nominated for state senator unless he took $500 worth of stock in the Journal. Mr. Hayden declined to be bribed and refused to go before the people on his own account, a democrat without paying a premium for a nomination, or establishing a precedent which would have not away.

Besides this case the breeze adds: "A leading form as that the Journal candidate to take so much paper if they wish to be a

A LOCAL QUESTION.

Hon. R. C. Bell Mentioned for Lieutenant Governor.

Hon. R. C. Bell, of this city, has not signified his intention to be a candidate for lieutenant governor, but the press of the state has given him favorable mention. The Indianapolis Journal correspondent telegraphs from here that Mr. Bell will be a candidate.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "The opinion of Attorney General Hord, published yesterday morning, was commented upon during the day, and there was considerable speculation regarding the choice of the convention for the vacant lieutenant governorship, it being conceded that General Manson would resign at an early day. Several gentlemen were mentioned yesterday in connection with the nomination, though State Senator Willard is the only avowed candidate. Among others mentioned were Judge Downey, of Rising Sun; Judge J. C. Robinson, of Indianapolis; Hon. DeForest Skinner, of Valparaiso, and Hon. Robert C. Bell, of Fort Wayne. Ex-State Senator Menzies is also spoken of in connection with the lieutenant governorship, and a strong effort will be made to secure his nomination."

The Decatur Democrat says: "There is strong talk of the nomination of Hon. R. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, as a candidate for lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket at the state convention, or before the November election. It is true that this is not the regular year for the nomination and election of a lieutenant governor, as that officer is elected and holds his office the same as governor, but in this case Gen. Manson, who was elected on the ticket with Governor Gray, has been appointed by President Cleveland to the office of internal revenue collector for the Indianapolis district and in case he accepts the appointment, which he undoubtedly will do, the office of lieutenant governor will become vacant. There will be two years yet to serve and we know of no man in the state better qualified for the position than Mr. Bell. He is well qualified in every respect, not only for that position, but for any other in the gift of the people."

LATE!

The President is Repentant.

And Wishes He had Signed the Surplus Bill Which He now Imposes.

The Capital is Deserted Now—Notes and Personals of Hoosiers.

THE PRESIDENT

Repents for not Signing the Surplus Resolution.

New York, Aug. 7.—The World's Washington correspondent says: "The president has evidently repented his action in not signing the surplus resolution. After consultation with his cabinet associates late yesterday, it was decided that bonds be called in for a time in accordance with the resolution, as it had become a law. The first call will be made for $15,000,000. Calls to an equal amount will be made each month until the administration is satisfied that the experiment of reducing the surplus by such monthly payments of the public debt can safely be done. It is said in behalf of the president, that he did not sign the resolution because he did not want to be bound by its limitations."

DESERTED CAPITAL.

Senators and Representatives: Gone or in Seclusion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The president held quite a congressional reception yesterday. Fifty or sixty senators and representatives called on him, making a farewell call before leaving Washington for the summer. The capital to-day, compared with what it was yesterday, and what it has been every day for the past eight months, is a very dull, quiet city. Many senators and members of congress started for their homes before final adjournment, many of them left Washington in last night's and this morning's trains, and most of those that remain are sequestered to-day in their rooms and in committee rooms, quietly packing up their baggage and goods preparatory to leaving on to-night's trains for their respective homes.

The capital, which yesterday was so full of congressmen, bustle, excitement and people, is now deserted. A few clerks in the secretary's office of the senate and the clerk's office of the house, and here and there a committee clerk, busily engaged clearing up unfinished work, are about the only people to be seen in the building. The corridors are deserted, and in a day or two the usual summer recess quiet will reign supreme in and about the huge edifice.

The president says he will make no new appointments at present.

Col. Tom Hanton, of Indiana, will be given register of lands at Lamar, Col., or provided for some other way.

Hon. George W. Julian, of Indiana, was not confirmed as surveyor of New Mexico and the president intimates he will not reappoint any such now.

The war department issued an order placing Fitz John Porter on the retired list of the army as colonel.

THE ANARCHISTS.

Nothing of Importance is Developed To-day.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—At the trial of the anarchists Samuel Fielden was called to the stand again. He said he had become a socialist in 1873 and an anarchist about the same time, but did not know as he had ever believed in changing the present government by force. He believed that in the nature of things the government would have to be changed by force. He had $2 worth of stock in the "Alarm."

Yacht Race.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 7.—The Mayflower won the yacht race. The Puritan second, three-fourths mile behind.

A BIG FIRE.

The Bank Barn of Wm. Lahmon and its Contents Destroyed.

About 5 o'clock last evening the big bank barn on the farm of Wm. Lahmon, out in Lafayette township, caught fire and before discovered the stable was all ablaze. It was a fine building, on the hillside, and fanned by a brisk breeze the elements made sad havoc of it. In the stable was stored last year's wheat, oats and hay, together with 500 bushels of wheat stowed away this season.

So quickly was the house destroyed that it was difficult to save the horses. The harness, part of the farming implements and a hundred and one things that are stored away in a barn, were all consumed.

The stable and its contents were insured for $1,100 in the Farmers' Mutual Aid society, but Mr. Milo Beard, the adjuster for the insurance company, fully estimates the loss at $3,000. This is the heaviest fire on record for some time. The barn is located near Gedding's saw mill on the line of the Wabash road.

Col. Geo. Humphrey's Funeral.

Col. Geo. Humphrey was buried this afternoon with military honors. The old soldier's casket lay in a room surrounded by a mountain of floral emblems from the Grand Army and his personal friends. An aged lady came in two miles with a floral sickel she made with her own hands and similar other affecting scenes were enacted.

After a splendid sermon by Rev. S. A. Northrop and the rendition of appropriate hymns by the Hayden quartet, the cortege moved toward Lindenwood.

Colonel F. Boltz was in command, with Major J. H. Roban officer of the day. Kimball's drum corps furnished martial music for the soldiers. General DuBarry commanded the 88th regiment, eighty strong. Lieutenant Deegan commanded the Fort Wayne Rifles, Captain James Harper Sion S. Bass post and the old veterans, Captain Harry Eastwood Anthony Wayne Guards, and the old soldiers.

There was no change in the list of pall bearers published, save that Col. Whitaker, of Huntington, took the place assigned Gen. Manson.

There was a long line of carriages after the soldiers, who returned on a special train when their lamented chieflain was laid to rest.

SHOT BY HIS WIFE.

An Ex-Government Official Has a Fatal Quarrel.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Captain Wallace W. Hall, until recently a high officer in the secret service of the United States, was shot and instantly killed at his home, 476 Wabash avenue, at 1:15 this afternoon, the fatal bullet being fired from his own revolver, while engaged in a struggle for its possession from his wife, Mrs. Annie Hall, who is locked up at the armory. The woman claims that the shooting was accidental. Captain Hall was married in Chicago, three months ago. He recently resigned his office and has been drinking and quarreling much with his wife.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Culled for the "Sentinel" Readers.

Two of the six patients received at the Peru Wabash hospital during last week were injured coupling cars. We noticed that three men were killed this week, in this state while coupling cars. Of the 400 railway employees killed in the United States last year, four-fifths were brakemen and switchmen coupling cars.

Ex-Senator McDonald, who is one of the attorneys of the Bell Telephone company, was asked how long a time he thought it would take to reach a conclusion in the agitation now being conducted by the government against the company to test the validity of its patent. He thought if due diligence was observed by the government a result would be obtained within a few years after the expiration of the patent.

Mrs. Susannah Finkenbinder, mother of Mr. J. S. Finkenbinder, died at her home in Huntington county this week. The News-Express adds: "Mrs. Finkenbinder was a woman greatly loved and respected by a large circle of friends and acquaintances."

The new bell for the St. Joseph Catholic church at Roanoke will be blessed there to-morrow by the Very Reverend Joseph H. Brammer, V. G., of this city. High mass at 10 o'clock, then a sermon will be preached by the vicar general, and after the sermon the bell will be blessed.

Mr. Newton Burwell, who was formerly a citizen and leading lawyer of Fort Wayne, has located at Rapid City, Dak., and will practice law there. Mr. Burwell has a thorough, trained legal mind. He is an honorable gentleman and the Sentinel congratulates the people of Rapid City in having him in their midst.

Wabash passenger train 46, with Uncle Ike Siddle at the throttle, picked up a cow at Roanoke Thursday morning. The animal became fastened in the pilot and was with great difficulty dislodged. The passengers manifested considerable interest, and one of them ventured to ask Uncle Ike how she got on the pilot. "I don't care a d—n how she got on the pilot, so I get her off," was the characteristic and brusque reply.

Captain Hugh M. Diehl says that he and his police officers will enforce the liquor law if Mayor Mahler and Prosecuting Attorney Dawson will so instruct them and prosecute with something like honesty every case brought before them. Captain Diehl says he can enforce the 11 o'clock and Sunday law if he is properly supported by the officers, who are usually lax in this particular. The people now await written instructions from the mayor and prosecutor. This is a point for the law and order league, to insist on.

Pittsburg passenger train No. 1 was two hours late to-day.

Col. Sam B. Sweet, division freight agent of the Wabash, is in the city.

Parties wishing to visit or attend the democratic state convention at Indianapolis on Wednesday will find it convenient to go over the Wabash, as they can leave on any regular train on the 9th, 10th and 11th for the very low price of $3.

Mr. Ed. J. Twomey, of Lake township, who has for a year been second clerk in the railway mail service, with a run from Crestline to Chicago, has been promoted and given charge of a car from Chicago to Crestline. Mr. Twomey is one of the brightest young men in the mail service and earned every inch of his elevation.

Mrs. Noah Granger died last night at her home, No. 180 West Wayne street. The lady was most estimable and her legion of friends will mourn the loss of a noble, Christian woman. Her life has been so useful and charitable that her reward is certain, and this simple tribute she deserves. Mrs. Granger's funeral will occur Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home.

THE ARSON CASE.

Fred. C. Reid and Wm. Hewitt Held for Trial.

The trial of Fred C. Reid and Wm. Hewitt, for arson, concluded last evening after THE SENTINEL went to press. Capt. Delh gave the best evidence of a conspiracy, inasmuch as Reid was never informed why he was arrested nor given an intimation of it, yet he seemed aware of the cause and protected his innocence without any provocation. Lieut. Wilkinson and Officer Lee gave similar evidence and cited other facts to establish an agreement between Reid and Hewitt to destroy the stock. Mr. S. F. Swayne testified to having insured Reid & Kyle's stock and reiterated Hewitt's confession. Hon. W. G. Colerick, Mr. Henry Colerick and J. B. Harper made masterly arguments for their clients, while Mr. C. M. Dawson did honors for the state. More eloquence has rarely been heard in the superior court room, but the prisoners were doomed and Justice Henry France bound them over for grand jury investigation in the sum of $500 each. At 12 o'clock last night Reid gave bail and is at his place of business. We hope Mr. Reid will prove to the grand jury that he is innocent.

Councilman Battenbender is quits ill.

The mayor of Richmond, Indiana, has issued an order to his police, in which he says: "The best policeman is not he who makes the most arrests. It is he who preserves the best order on his beat. If you see a man who is unusually sober and industrious, under the influence of liquor, it is better to send him home, if he will go."

GRATIFYING—COMFORTING. EPPS'S COCOA.

By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a judicious application of the fine purest of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has prepared our breakfast food which is a delicately flavored beverage which will save you many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are floating around in our system ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal attack by taking this food which is fortified with purest and most properly nourished frame.
